THE OLD TESTAMENT.

The Revised Version Given to the Public

A HISTORY OF THE GREAT WORK

[illegible] May 1[illegible].—The [illegible] of Canterbury [illegible] the only person who has as yet been [illegible] copy of the revised Old Testament [illegible]

LONDON, May 1[illegible].—Copies of the revised version of the Old Testament were given to the newspapers at midnight last night and all the papers this morning contain copious extracts from the work. In the following paragraphs is presented the substance of a semi-official article prepared for the London Times, in which some account of the work of revision, with particular reference to the American part of it, is given. Finally an international work of fourteen years has come to a close. The revised version of the New Testament was issued in May 1881 and now the revised Old Testament will soon be published in all parts of the English speaking world. This revision is the most important event in the history of the English bible since the publication of King James' translation in 1611. The success of the Old Testament [illegible] may not be as great as that of the New, of which more than a million copies were sold the day of publication, and more than three million copies before the close of the year, but it will probably be more favorably received and less severely criticised, for it involves fewer changes of the Hebrew text, no other manuscripts than the Masoretic having been discovered, and the idiom of the authorized version is most carefully preserved out of regard for the conservative feeling of the church [illegible] attachment for the language of the old version. All errors of translation, however, have been removed and the revision will be pronounced by every competent [illegible] a great improvement. It presents the results of the combined labor of a large number of the best Hebraists and biblical scholars of England and the United States, most of them professors of Hebrew in universities and seminaries. It has, moreover, the advantage of the vast advance of the last fifty years in oriental philology, biblical geographical, historical and antiquarian, all of which were but imperfectly understood by the forty-seven translators of King James, although it is freely admitted that they did their very best in their day. The new version is not a good version in the place of a bad one, but a great improvement of a good version.

HOW THE MOVEMENT ORIGINATED.

The movement for the present version was inaugurated by the convocation of Canterbury, the mother church of Anglo-Saxon Christendom, May 4, 1870, by the adoption of the following resolutions: First, that it is desirable a revision of the authorized version of the holy scriptures be undertaken; second, that the revision be so conducted as to comprise both marginal readings and such emendations as it may be found necessary to insert in the text of the authorized version; third, that in the above resolutions we do not contemplate any new translation of the bible, or any alteration of the language, except where in the judgment of the most competent scholars such change is necessary; fourth, that in such necessary changes the style of language employed in the existing version be closely followed; fifth, that it is desirable the convocation should nominate a body of its own members to undertake the work of revision, who shall be at liberty to invite the co-operation of any eminent for scholarship, to whatever nation or religious body they may belong.

Steps towards the formation of an American committee of revision were taken almost immediately after the organization of the English committee.

The first meeting of the New Testament committee in England was held [illegible] 1870. On the [illegible] of July following, the two houses of the convocation voted to invite the co-operation of some American divines, and to Bishop Wilberforce and Dean Stanley was assigned soon afterwards the duty of [illegible] this result. They authorized Dr. Angus, who was then [illegible] a visit to America, to open [illegible] with Rev. Dr. Schaff and other American scholars widely in the United States in regard to this work. In August 1870 Dr. Angus sent letters to various American scholars, in which he explained the plan of English work and suggested the formation of an American committee of twelve or eighteen, to which the work of the English revisors could be referred for criticism and revision. He gave some hints as to how the expenses of such committee could be met and invited correspondence on the subject. Dr. Angus also had personal communication with Dr. Schaff. The result was the selection of certain gentlemen who were fitted for the work and were regarded as authorities in biblical learning by the American public, and the submission of their names to Bishop Ellicott and Dean Stanley as representing the English body.

DEAN STANLEY WRITES TO AMERICA.

A few months later Dean Stanley made the first formal communication by letter in the discharge of the duty assigned to him. On the [illegible] of January 1871 he wrote to Dr. Schaff as follows:

DEANERY OF WESTMINSTER ABBEY, LONDON, January 1[illegible], 1871.

My Dear Sir: I have been in communication with Dr. Angus on the subject of revision of the authorized version of the bible, now set on foot by two committees of English, Scottish and Irish scholars appointed under authority of Canterbury. By that committee and the lower house of the convocation the Bishop of Winchester and myself were requested to ask the friendly co-operation of some divines from the United States of America, in which it was felt that concerned that vast part of the English speaking races of the world as nearly as [illegible] ourselves. I find that the bishop of Winchester has already communicated [illegible] subject with the church in America, but as the general convocation [illegible] until the following autumn the subject [illegible] be brought before the house of [illegible] before that [illegible].

[illegible] of August 1871 Bishop Wilberforce again addressed Bishop Potter in a letter which was [illegible] to the house of bishops [illegible] the decision. The house of bishops declined to take an official part in the work, but left individual members free to act as they might, but so much time elapsed in preliminary communications between America and England that the final arrangements for an American committee were not made until the summer of 1871. These arrangements were [illegible] by Dr. Schaff, who visited England for that purpose. On his return in the autumn the committee began its work. Though nearly two years later than the English committee in beginning work they pressed forward with such activity that they were enabled to complete it contemporaneously with their English brethren.

THE AMERICAN COMMITTEE.

The first meeting of the American committee was held [illegible] in New York in the [illegible] of October 1871. [illegible] of the American committee [illegible] as follows, including [illegible] those who participated in the organization of the body and others who were added to membership by election at some of the earliest meetings. The membership was necessarily limited to scholars whose residence was not so remote from New York as to make their attendance at the monthly meetings of the committee impossible. General officers of the committee: Philip Schaff, D.D., LL.D., president; George E. Day, D.D., secretary. Old Testament committee: Professor William H. Green, D.D., LL.D., chairman, [illegible] theological seminary of Princeton, N. J.; Professor George E. Day, D.D., [illegible] divinity school of Yale college, New Haven, Conn.; Professor Charles A. Aiken, D.D., theological seminary, Princeton, N. J.; the Rev. T. W. Chambers, D.D., collegiate [illegible] Reformed Dutch church, New York; Professor Thomas J. Conant, D.D., Brooklyn, N. Y.; Professor John De Witt, D.D., Theological seminary, New Brunswick, N. J.; Professor George Emlen Hare, D.D., LL.D., Divinity school, Philadelphia; Professor Chas. P. Krauth, D.D., LL.D., vice provost of the university of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia; Professor Tayler Lewis, LL.D., Union school, Schenectady, N. Y.; Professor Charles M. Mead, theological seminary, Andover, Mass.; Professor Howard Osgood, D.D., LL.D., theological seminary, Rochester, N. Y.; Professor Joseph Packard, D.D., theological seminary, Alexandria, Va.; Professor Calvin Ellis Stowe, D.D., Hartford; Professor James Strong, LL.D., theological seminary, Madison, N. J.; Professor Rev. C. V. Van Dyke, D.D., LL.D., theological seminary, Beyrout, Syria, advisory member on the question of Arabic.

Since the American Old Testament committee lost by death Prof. Tayler Lewis, who died in [illegible], and Dr. Krauth, who died in [illegible]. Dr. Krauth was the only active member who died [illegible], Lewis having been unable to participate in any of the meetings.

It is interesting to note that [illegible] members who were in the committee at first organization were [illegible] almost immediately after [illegible] [illegible] it in all its stages [illegible].

HOW THE COMMITTEE WORKED.

Meetings of the two American committees were held every month from September to May in the [illegible] Bible house, New York. A summer meeting was held in July, usually at New Haven and once at Princeton. The summer meetings continued for a week, the other meetings being for two days. The members sat around a common table and freely and fully discussed such passages or chapters as had been previously assigned for the particular meeting, each member having already examined and investigated them for himself. The work was revised in this careful manner twice from beginning to end. At the first revision changes in the authorized edition were recorded for further consideration [illegible] by a majority [illegible] review the [illegible] two thirds in order to adopt the proposed change. Finally the passages were [illegible] a third time, in which the [illegible] differences still remaining between the English and American committees [illegible]. It may be safely said that no criticism had been [illegible] the New Testament portion of the work already published which was not accepted and [illegible] by their revisers in the progress of the work. As the two committees [illegible] of the principal [illegible] opportunity was given for fair and [illegible] of the views of [illegible] bearing upon the matter [illegible] the translation of words for sentences. A controversy, however, never arose in the meetings [illegible] religious bodies. The spirit [illegible] [illegible] also [illegible] its [illegible] timely to the [illegible] accuracy [illegible] work.

[illegible] At an early period in the history of the work an arrangement had been made between the English committees and officers connected with the university presses of Oxford and Cambridge, by which the revised version in Great Britain became the property of these institutions, on condition that the large expenses incidental to the work in that country should be paid by them. The copyright in Great Britain accordingly passed into their control. It was at no time desired by the American committee to have any such arrangement made between themselves and publishers in the United States, or in any way to put a restriction on the sale of the new books for the purpose of securing any remuneration for their own services or any benefit for themselves. [illegible] No copyright was thought of [illegible] wished for in America with any such end in view. At one time, however, the subject of securing a copyright for the sole purpose of preventing the [illegible] of imperfect editions was considered. This led to much correspondence with the university and with lawyers in America, but this scheme was abandoned. The American revisers were determined not to accept pecuniary benefit for their work, and the danger of an incorrect edition was formally decided to be too little to change them from their settled purpose. As some standard edition, however, was necessary, the American committee agreed to make a public statement that the [illegible] issued by the university presses was one for whose accuracy they would hold themselves responsible.

SOME OF THE CHANGES.

In the margin, in addition to that which has hitherto been known to English readers of the bible [illegible] from the New Testament, Revelation [illegible] has been introduced in three passages of the Job and twice in Proverbs. The term "meat offering," the form [illegible] being used to be the generic name [illegible]. A new plural "peoples" has been introduced, though sometimes this becomes "gentiles," when the contrast to the chosen people is marked. All headings of chapters have been dropped as in the revised New Testament, and the text has been divided into paragraphs, but the chapter and verse divisions have been retained in the margin for convenience of reference. By this means the revisers have been enabled to read psalm ix and psalm x[illegible] to psalm [illegible] and to begin Isaiah liii at chapter lii verse 13. The several days of the creation are made more prominent by breaks of a line between verses. This expedient has enabled revisers to make use of a dialogue form and show the dramatic character of the Song of Songs, the first chapter of which, for example, is divided into seven speeches. The Psalms are definitely divided into five books, the last four beginning respectively at Psalms xlii, lxxiii, xc and cvii. A striking improvement is the printing of all poetical passages in poetical form. This has been done in the Psalms, Proverbs, Job and Canticles, but the Prophets have been left in prose, however passionate their oratory. The songs of Lamech, Jacob, Miriam, Moses, Deborah and Hannah, the psalms of Jonah and Habakkuk and David's lament [illegible] appear in versified ballad.

At this point connection with the east was lost, the wires having worked badly all night.

THE ANGLO RUSSIAN DISPUTE.

LONDON, May 1[illegible].—In the house of lords this afternoon Baron Carlingford, lord president of the council, announced that the government intended to introduce a bill embodying a large number but not all of the provisions of the Irish crimes act.

In the house of commons this afternoon Gladstone stated that Russia's reply to the proposition concerning the Afghan agreement had been awaited for some days. A portion of the papers relating to the [illegible] question would be circulated to-morrow, but as negotiations were incomplete the papers would be broken off at the Penjdeh incident. In regard to a report that Russia had given intimation of a demand to have acknowledged a Russian representative at Cabul, Gladstone said he knew nothing.

Referring to the crimes act he said, without entering into details, that the government intended to renew [illegible] various provisions in that act which they deemed to be both valuable and equitable. This statement was greeted with groans by the Parnellite members. It would be the duty of the government, continued Gladstone, to press the house to pass the bill into a law. Were the conditions more favorable the government would be most anxious to deal with the question of self government in Ireland and also of land purchase. Both were measures towards which the government felt they had unfulfilled obligations. It was with great regret that the government announced their inability to ask the house to deal with these measures during the present session.

ENGLAND'S REAL SITUATION.

LONDON, May 1[illegible].—The Standard in an editorial says: "To speak plainly, the draft of the Anglo Russian agreement which was sent to St. Petersburg for approval is found to be wholly unacceptable to the czar's ministers, and though not formally rejected has been so thoroughly condemned in detail that practically it has ceased to be an agreement. There is something vastly more [illegible] proceedings. We are back in February again, the situation being only altered to our disadvantage."

NO ANSWER FROM RUSSIA.

LONDON, May 1[illegible].—Lord Edmund Fitzmaurice, under foreign secretary, announced in the house of commons this afternoon that Russia had not yet sent an answer to the English proposition.

OPPOSITION GROWING.

LONDON, May 15.—The growth of opposition to the proposed spirit and beer duties leads to the belief that Mr. Childers will be compelled to revise the budget.

ANOTHER WILY MOVE OF RUSSIA.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 1[illegible].—The Official Messenger [illegible] publishes a report from General Komaroff [illegible] the Sariks [illegible] the subject [illegible] the lands of the Sariks [illegible] between England and Russia will now be necessary so that the claims of the Sariks may be [illegible] for an Anglo Russian agreement [illegible] be approved by Russia.

ANOTHER DEMAND OF RUSSIA.

PARIS, May 15.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg to the Journal des Debats states that Russia has entirely rejected the British proposals. The same dispatch also states that Russia will demand the right to have an acknowledged Russian representative at Cabul, the capital of Afghanistan. [illegible] diplomatists think that the latter demand if [illegible] will prove more serious than [illegible].

ENGLAND.

MINISTER PHELPS ARRIVES.

SOUTHAMPTON, May 1[illegible].—Mr. E. J. Phelps, the new United States minister to England, arrived here this afternoon.

The directors of the Isle of Wight Steam Packet Company placed a steamer at the disposal of the reception party to convey Mr. Phelps from the [illegible]. At the landing Mr. Phelps was welcomed by the mayor and municipal authorities of Southampton and members of the chamber of commerce. Several speeches were made expressing [illegible] at his arrival. In reply Phelps cordially thanked them for their kind and unexpected reception, adding: "Nothing could have introduced me more pleasantly to your beautiful country. I have enjoyed a sight of it for the past two days while [illegible] along the southern coast. I never had the pleasure of seeing it before. I assure you I come to England hoping and trusting most sincerely that I may be instrumental in promoting and continuing in a very small way those cordial, kindly and generous relations so long existing and which I hope will always exist between you and your kinsmen in the great west."

Phelps and wife then visited the principal places of interest in the town. They declined the offer of a special train and proceeded to London in the evening on the regular express train.

VILAS IN TROUBLE.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—[Special.]—Some time ago a veteran democrat said: "Vilas is a very light weight and will give the president trouble." Vilas' [illegible] confidential letter to congressmen seems fully to justify this opinion. It seems that copies of the letter have been sent to democratic representatives throughout the country, and the publicity [illegible] has made Vilas extremely angry, and he set on foot an investigation to ascertain who had traced his correspondence. It is understood he suspects Congressman Wilkins of Ohio. Some things in the letter, especially his allusion to "clerks" of fourth class postmasters who have no clerks, show that Vilas is still ignorant in respect to matters belonging to his department. The contents of the letter are regarded as a valuable indication of the real purposes of the administration. Cleveland is said to be greatly mortified by the publication of the letter of his over-zealous subordinate.

JUDGE WALLACE TO BE SENT TO CHINA.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—[Special.]—Judge Wallace of San Francisco, it is now said, has been selected as the successor to John Russell Young as minister to China, and his appointment will soon be announced. Judge Wallace was recommended to the president and Bayard as a suitable man for the place when it became known that it was the intention of the president to give the office to California, and some correspondence relative to the matter has passed between the state department and Wallace, the result of which was the arrival here of the judge. He had an interview with the president and Bayard, and it is said was formally tendered the office and accepted it. Judge Field will file a protest against Wallace's appointment. He will file charges against him, and this may result in Wallace's commission being withheld until the matter is investigated.

McSWEENEY [illegible] ON THE PRESIDENT.

NEW YORK, May 15.—[Special.]—The Herald's Washington special says: The president to-day had a call from Daniel McSweeney, the suspect of the last campaign. McSweeney does not want to be forgotten. He wants office and claims that members of the national democratic committee from Barnum all the way down to Prince of Boston successively promised that he should be provided for. McSweeney did want to be made collector of San Francisco, but there is such a lively contest for that place among California democrats who are higher up in the party than he is, and in view of the fact that he has not been in California for nearly [illegible] years, that he is willing to compromise on the next best position there, that of surveyor of the port. There are fourteen applicants for that place.

[illegible] PRESENTS HIS CLAIMS.

WASHINGTON, May 1[illegible].—Eugene Semple of Vancouver, W. T., arrived in this city yesterday to urge his claims for appointment as governor of the territory. Mr. Semple is a resident of Washington territory and is endorsed by the bar of the territory and of Oregon, boards of trade, a mass meeting of the citizens of Vancouver, the legislature of Illinois and senators and members of congress from several southern and western states.

Lieutenant Griffin's Paper Attracting Much Attention in New York.

NEW YORK, May 1[illegible].—[Special.]—At the meeting of the military service institution at Governor's island yesterday several papers on coast defenses were read. Senator Dolph of Oregon, chairman of the congressional committee on coast defense, was present and made a few remarks in which he declared himself fully impressed with the importance of the subject and said that appropriations ought immediately to be made for the construction of fortifications, for establishing two government gun factories and to enable private parties to establish works for casting and forging steel ingots of sufficient size for the manufacture of large and powerful guns.

ATTENTION ATTRACTED.

NEW YORK, May 1[illegible].—[Special.]—Lieutenant Griffin's exposé of the helplessness of our Atlantic and Pacific sea coast defenses against ironclads and 100-ton guns, delivered yesterday before the military service institution at Governor's island, attracts much attention this morning, both from the standing of Griffin in the engineer corps and the accuracy and thoroughness of his demonstrations. The conclusion which the speaker drew was that in these days, when the victor compels the vanquished to pay the cost of war, with six billions of visible property in the seaports of Portland, Boston, New York, Newport, Philadelphia, Baltimore, New Orleans and San Francisco, and with over half of this amount in this port alone, with eight buildings worth together $1,200,000 within gunshot of Coney island, which could be destroyed by eight well directed shots, to say nothing of the incalculable damage which would be caused by fire engendered by shells and which no fire department could control, with British and Spanish naval stations at Halifax, Bermuda, Havana and Vancouver, from thirty-one to eighty-five hours steam from these ports, we are utterly helpless in case of war. For defenses in New York harbor $1[illegible],500,000 are wanted. New York city pays $1,000,000 a year for its fire department, to say nothing of the cost of insurance, yet war would inflict more damage in one day than is caused by fire in a century, and as a price to escape bombardment $100,000,000 would be a small sum for an enemy to demand. Griffin says that nothing but ignorance can excuse reliance on torpedoes as a main defense, and as to earthworks, only a seventy foot parapet could stand against modern guns. Sir [illegible] Armstrong could not make guns to defend New York in time in less than three years. The work of mounting these guns, once they are here, would take months, perhaps years.

Altogether Griffin's exhibit is startling, showing that the United States is not only at the mercy of a power like Chile but unable to put her principal seaports in a state of defense within the next five or ten years, even with the millions required placed immediately at its disposal.

A GREAT AUCTION SALE.

NEW YORK, May 1[illegible].—[Special.]—The big auction sale of cotton goods by Bliss, Fabian & Co. yesterday [illegible] the most successful [illegible] of the kind [illegible]. Merchants bid eagerly for goods as if they had no stock on hand, and most of the leading staple fabrics realized full private prices. The feeling of uneasiness that has existed for some time past in dry goods circles seemed to have been entirely overcome. The sale is the theme of all commercial papers.

This morning's Bulletin says: "It was most successful, as it was the largest ever held in this country, and embraced the products of a dozen manufacturing concerns of the highest reputation and included none but standard goods. It is satisfactory to find that in a market considered dull and depressed 20,000 packages of cotton goods, representing say $1,600,000 in value, should be disposed of at an average reduction of [illegible] per cent from private sale prices. This sale cannot but relieve the congested interests [illegible]."

The Times says: "The sale [illegible] $[illegible],000,000 worth of cotton goods at auction yesterday at prices but a shade below those asked at private sale to purchasers from all parts of the union is a surer sign of healthy demand in the dry goods trade than anything that has hitherto been noted."

THE FRENCH BOUNTY SYSTEM.

NEW YORK, May 1[illegible].—[Special.]—A meeting of the Maritime Association to consider the French bounty system, which proposes that 30 cents per ton be granted by the government for every 1000 miles sailed by vessels, sail or steam, built and owned in the United States engaged in foreign commerce, was fairly attended. After an animated discussion a vote was taken and the friends of the system prevailed. The announcement was received with loud cheers. A memorandum of a memorial will now be forwarded to every maritime and commercial organization throughout the country for endorsement.

GENERAL GRANT'S CONDITION.

NEW YORK, May 1[illegible].—Shortly after 11 o'clock last night General Grant was asleep. Dr. Douglass remained all night and when he left the house this morning said the general had a good average night's rest. He slept more than six hours during the night and when the doctor left his patient was still sleeping. He aroused half an hour later and was dressed. The general suffered little or no pain during the evening and night and the swelling at the jaw had subsided much. The doctor said he would return at noon to drive out with the general.

STEERAGE RATES INCREASED.

NEW YORK, May 1[illegible].—[Special.]—Agents of the North German Lloyd, Hamburg American Packet, Red Star and Rotterdam steamship lines, which re-established the continental association on May 4, yesterday issued instructions to their agents which will go into effect to-day giving the minimum schedule of steerage rates. The new rates are an advance of between 20 and 40 per cent.

NEW YORK, May 15.—[Special.]—A London special says of the banquet given by Consul General Merritt: Among the guests was ex-Governor Gibbs of Oregon. Banker Palesten, in a speech combining adroit compliments and witty allusions, spoke of the English regret for the parting guest and English welcome for the coming one. When, early in the evening, a health was proposed to the queen and the president coupled, Bret Harte said in a low tone: "happy combination, widow and bachelor."

FORTY CONVICTS SET AT LIBERTY BY A MOB.

ST. LOUIS, May 15.—An Austin, Texas, special to the Post-Dispatch says: This forenoon Governor Ireland received a telegram from Major Godell, superintendent of the Texas penitentiary, giving information of the most daring and successful outrage ever committed in Texas. Forty state convicts were employed at Clay's farm, in [illegible] county, and last evening, when work was stopped, a great mob of armed men surrounded the guards and prisoners, and demanded the release of the latter. The guards refused, whereupon a fight ensued in which the convicts joined forces with the mob. The conflict was a terrible one, and resulted in a victory for the attacking party, who disappeared with the convicts. There is no definite information as to whether there were any killed and wounded, but it is reported that several men were fatally wounded. The outrage is due to the hue and cry against employment of convict labor of the penitentiary. The governor has offered a reward of $200 for the conviction of any of the leaders in the outrage.

HUNTERS POINT, L. I., May 15.—Charles Henry Riggs, a negro, who murdered old Mrs. Lydia Maybee and her daughter Mary at Oyster bay, Long Island, nearly two years ago, was hanged in jail here at [illegible]:45 this morning. He died without a struggle.

FIVE CHILDREN BURNED TO DEATH.

OWATONNA, Minn., May 15.—Henry Lewiston's house caught fire last night. The family, consisting of himself, wife, seven children and a hired man, were sleeping at the time in the second story. Lewiston and wife were awakened by the glare and rushed down stairs, the woman carrying the youngest child in her arms, another child aged 10 and the hired man following. When Lewiston opened the door flames burst in, nearly overpowering him and burning off his hair and beard. The hired man succeeded in breaking out a window, through which they escaped, but not before Mrs. Lewiston was severely burned. Lewiston made frantic efforts to reach his little daughter and four sons still asleep upstairs, but all five perished in the flames.

DOMESTIC TRAGEDY AT VALLEJO.

VALLEJO, May 15.—Last night Michael O'Keef returned home in an intoxicated condition, and without provocation opened fire with a revolver on his family. Mrs. O'Keef was shot twice through the body on the left side and Maggie, 12-year-old daughter, was shot through the right shoulder. Mrs. O'Keef turning around saw her husband pointing the pistol at himself and firing. He shot himself twice under the right shoulder and once in the right side. The foregoing is the statement of Mrs. O'Keef. O'Keef says he was sitting at the table eating supper, when his son John shot him twice. The general impression among the neighbors is that O'Keef, ugly with drink, shot his wife and daughter and was in turn shot by his son John. The father and mother are in a critical condition and not expected to live. The little girl is also in a precarious condition, but hopes are entertained for her recovery. O'Keef's revolver showed that three shots had been fired from it, while four chambers of John's revolver had been discharged. John was placed in jail. He was unwilling to give any account of the affair.

WILLING TO "REMOVE" MRS. SHARON.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—The Alta this morning publishes an account of a proposition made by a young man named D. H. Jordan to Senator Sharon for the "removal" of Mrs. Sarah Althea Hill-Sharon. Jordan, on being received by the senator, said he would undertake to kill Mrs. Hill-Sharon, and asked the senator how much he was willing to pay for the job. The senator expressed so much horror at the proposition that the man took fright and ran away. Mr. Davis, private detective for Senator Sharon, gave chase and captured Jordan on McAllister street. It was found that the young fellow was of respectable parentage but had been drinking heavily of late. It is supposed his mind had become affected from drink and reading accounts of the trial. On the earnest plea of his mother Jordan was allowed to go unmolested.

A PARTIAL DENIAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—Regarding a dispatch from London, England, that negotiations were going on for consolidation of the Oregon and California railroad with the Central Pacific system, Colonel Fred Crocker said to-day that the dispatch was premature. "Of course," said he, "the subject has been discussed in our office, and plans suggested by which the road could be operated in conjunction with our system, but that was only in the event that the road was finished. The dispatch refers to our obtaining control of the road. The only way we would get control of it would be to lease it, and we would have no use for it unless it is finished. It is possible that negotiations have been going on from New York city, but if such was the case we would certainly be aware of it. I don't think there is any truth in it."

ANOTHER SHARON IN TROUBLE.

A statement was published this morning that Alexander Sharon, Jr., has been discharged by the Spring Valley Company because it had been discovered he owed that corporation about $1500. He has been in the employ of the company twelve years. The amount will, it is stated, be immediately made good.

NORTH YAKIMA FLURRIED.

NORTH YAKIMA, May 15.—[Special.]—There is quite a flurry here over the order cutting down construction expenses on the railroad north of here from $10,000 a month to $800 a month. This lets out nearly all the engineers, calls in all the surveying parties and takes off over 80 men. Whether it results from a purpose to cut down the amount spent by Contractor Bennet, which has all along exceeded allowances, or whether it grows out of the Oregon Railway and Navigation lease, no one here seems to know. It will cut down the flow of money into this place for a few months, but to leave this as the end of the road for even several years would, it is considered here, be the best thing that could happen to the town.

PORTLAND, SATURDAY, MAY 16, 1885.

A DREAM OF PHILANTHROPY

There is an international arbitration league, with distinguished representatives, in most of the leading countries of the world, which hopes to induce all nations to consent to disarmament as one of the leading steps to the abandonment of war. Representative Pettibone of Tennessee, a member of the league, intends, as he stated recently, to introduce a bill in congress next winter, authorizing the president to invite a conference to be held in Washington in 1887 to make arrangements for a peace congress in London in 1890. Mr Pettibone expresses a belief that delegates from all civilized countries would attend both meetings, and that the scheme of the league may make war impossible, before the close of the present century. An ideal philanthropy may discover here a fine field for its speculations and exertions, but the scheme is wanting in practical judgment. It is useless to argue that the support of great armies is a heavy burden upon the national industry, that vast military systems sap both public and private morals, that the horrors of war are appalling, and that rational human beings ought not to destroy each other. All these things are truisms. The annual cost of the armies of Europe is about $750,000,000, and the number of men withdrawn from industrial pursuits is fully 3,000,000. Almost all national debts are the product of war. The effort required to crush Napoleon added about $3,000,000,000 to the debt of Great Britain, and the great rebellion created about an equal debt for the United States. France paid $2,000,000,000 for the chastisement which she provoked at the hands of Germany, and the last conflict between Russia and Turkey cost $750,000,000 and 100,000 lives, although it lasted hardly more than six months. The argument against the wastefulness, the demoralization, the savagery and the general horrors of war is, indeed, all that could be asked. All men acknowledge its force. And yet it is not possible to get rid of war, and probably never will be. Is this an enigma? It will not appear so when one looks a little into the subject.

There is a law of national development that works out its own way, overriding all barriers that may rise against it. Something mysterious, even inexplicable, there is in the steady movements by which a nation, starting from small things, absorbs and assimilates all with which it comes in contact, is assisted, often, rather than retarded by obstacles against which it is forced to contend, and pushes on steadily and with irresistible force to the fulfillment of a destiny which even its own statesmen cannot foresee or but dimly comprehend. Such has been the growth of every great national power in human history. Under an impulse supplied by the development of its own peculiar genius, the Roman empire grew till it overshadowed the world. It went forward irresistibly in obedience to that law which controls the destinies of nations, and declined only when the principles of growth that had produced it had spent their force and tended to decay. Spain, three centuries ago, was the great power of the world. Her empire had grown rapidly and it fell to pieces quickly but its career was in accord with the overruling law. Russia and England have been growing into greatness for a thousand years. Each has steadily advanced upon its own career; each has had a mighty growth from within, which has in its turn been fostered by a mighty growth from without. Each has had enormous power of assimilation—the power which Rome had, but which Spain had not. In working out its destiny under the controlling law, each great nation, by the inexorable requirements of that law, is led into wars which it cannot possibly avoid. It is an irrepressible development, so rigid and exacting in its conditions that the nation is often driven into war against its own will. This does not apply so much to empires like those of Alexander and Napoleon, which were built on individual careers of conquest, had no bond of unity and fell to pieces as quickly as reared, but it does apply in every case where the growth of a nation through ages is in fulfillment of ethnic law.

Again, a nation is often divided within itself on questions which cannot possibly be settled without appeal to the sword. No nation has grown to greatness without its civil wars. Where policies come in conflict, arbitration and compromise may settle the dispute, but where systems are opposed there is no arbiter but war. Every American now sees that nothing but war could have settled the [illegible] between [illegible] north and south [illegible] was [illegible] power [illegible] arms. Every nation [illegible] has similar experience. No peace society can help it out. Usually moral questions are involved that will admit no compromise. General Grant said in a letter to the press convention held in Philadelphia in 1883: "My views on the subject of peace arbitration in the settlement of international differences instead of the sword have not changed, but my hope of the speedy accomplishment of the desired result has [illegible]."

Yet the international arbitration league may do much. It cannot possibly put an end to war, but it may do a great deal in support of the principle of arbitration between nations in cases where the disputes are of such nature as to admit of accommodation through concessions on both sides. Instances of this sort, in which war may be averted, are many, and therefore the league, though its idea of making war impossible is a dream, has a large field, nevertheless, which may be worked with beneficent results.

It has been plausibly suggested by the London Spectator that the object of Russia in endeavoring to seize Herat might be the absorption of Persia, rather than Afghanistan. If Herat is the key to India, it is much more the key to Persia, and with a Russian garrison in Herat, the Shah would be at the mercy of the czar, and beyond the reach of succor from the quarter of India. The addition of Persia to the Russian dominion would round off in ample form the Asiatic possessions of the czar and establish a broad barrier between the Turkish empire in Asia and the British in India. There has certainly been little in recent events to indicate that Russia has meditated a serious war of aggression and conquest in Afghanistan, or that she intended to carry her arms, for the present, beyond Herat, while the reduction of Persia would be a long step toward the grand realization of Russia's imperial dream—the seizure of the city of Constantinople and a Mediterranean boundary.

EFFECTS OF UNEQUAL TAXATION

Study of the figures given in THE OREGONIAN yesterday morning, showing the effect of the mortgage tax law upon foreign capital in this state, explains very clearly one of the causes of the hard times under which we have suffered during the past two years. When the mortgage tax law went into effect, six foreign money lending associations were doing business here with investments on real estate security as follows: The Dundee Mortgage Company of Scotland, $1,756,000; the American Mortgage Company of Scotland, and the Oregon Mortgage Company of Scotland, $783,000; the American Freehold Company of London, $367,000; the New England Mortgage Company, $186,000, and the Pacific Loan Company of Liverpool, $186,000—in all, $3,578,000.

When the law came in effect, the agencies in this state were directed from the home offices to stop lending money and to call in all outstanding loans as they came due. The business of the local agencies from that time till now has been to take in money, and operating under strict orders their action has in very many instances seemed harsh and cruel. Their reports are not given to the public, but the figures on the tax books in this state show the following sums outstanding: Dundee Mortgage Company, $656,000; American Mortgage Company, $388,000; American Freehold and New England Companies, $323,000, and the Oregon Mortgage Company, $87,300. The figures of the Pacific Loan Company are not obtainable, but they have no doubt declined in equal ratio with the others. Now, the amount of money called in and sent back to Scotland during the past two years is the difference between the sum of these various amounts now outstanding and the whole amount outstanding two years ago, which is $1,649,700, not reckoning any decline in the Pacific loan fund, of which we have no figures. But this fund, it is estimated, has declined at least $250,000, and this, with the private foreign money lent through the various foreign offices here, advances the sum of the recall to $2,000,000 at the very lowest. Of the whole amount outstanding two years ago $1,938,300 remains, and this is also being called in as it falls due, and the draw will continue for two years more at the rate of a million a year.

The figures above relate only to foreign capital. The effect of the mortgage tax law on American money invested here on mortgage security and even on the money of our own people formerly employed in this way, has been precisely similar. It is not possible to give exact figures, but the amount of this class of money called in and sent out of the state in the past two years is about $3,000,000, a much larger sum than has been supposed, generally.

Five millions of dollars in money drawn out of the state in two years, and two millions more to be taken in the two years to come! With these facts in mind, can anybody be surprised that the country is drained and poor? The surprise is, other unfortunate circumstances considered, that the whole state is not bankrupt. These facts and figures teach a practical lesson in finance. They show that certain things, just enough in theory, will not work in practice. The withdrawal of money is not an effect of spite-work nor of any "cinching" league among money lenders. It is merely a matter of business and it shows that under its present system of taxation this state is not a good market for capital. We have driven from the country what we are most in need of.

The injustice of our mortgage tax law is in the discrimination which it makes, practically, between money and property in other forms. Under it mortgages are taxed at their face or full value, while other property pays only upon one-third or one quarter its value. The practical injustice of such a system is obvious.

Actual repeal of the mortgage tax law is not expected or desired even by money lenders, but they will not put their money in a fix where, under a faulty assessment system, it can be taxed three or four times as high as other property. Unless public opinion in Oregon shall force assessment at something near actual value, money will not be lent here on mortgage.

CHEAP RATES.

Cheaper rates than those just put into effect on the Oregon and California railroad, for transportation of garden products from the interior to this city, could not reasonably be asked. The purpose of the managers is to encourage the farmers of the Willamette valley to supply Portland, and it is an extremely liberal effort in this direction. From the complete schedule, printed yesterday, we find that the lowest rate on the east side is eight cents per hundred weight from Milwaukie, gradually advancing to thirty cents per hundred weight from Cottage Grove, the head of the Willamette valley, this latter figure being the maximum rate and applying uniformly through to the end of the line at Ashland, with free delivery at Portland. On the west side the lowest rate is 6 cents per hundred-weight from Summit, gradually increasing to Corvallis, where it is only 18 cents. Way cars are attached to every freight train and produce may be shipped in any quantity, from any station and at any time.

If the farmers of western Oregon cannot supply this city market on these terms, they don't deserve to prosper. The railroad company has done the fair and generous thing, something railroad companies don't always do, and we hope to see the country meet the new opportunities with new spirit and enterprise.

The dissatisfaction of the mugwumps increases as the administration refuses to yield as much to their suggestions as those pharisees of politics would like. The two Massachusetts internal revenue collectors recently appointed were condemned without mercy by every mugwump journal in New England and New York, and every kind of influence was brought to bear on the president to induce him to revoke them, but without avail. They will take charge of their offices on the 1st June. The latest howl of the mugwump organs is over the removal of Gunnison, chief of one of the divisions of the sixth auditor's office at Washington. This worthy pharisee distinguished himself by canvassing the department for Harper's Weekly, and it was believed that the influence of Curtis [illegible]

The Louisville Courier-Journal, Cincinnati Enquirer, New York World and other disgruntled democratic organs have concluded to give President Cleveland a short rest, and have called off their dogs—the Washington correspondents. It is reported from Washington to the Ohio State Journal that Mr Cleveland is to have until July 1 to prepare to "turn the rascals out." If at or before that time he does manifest a disposition to conform himself and the administration to democratic usages and practices he is to be treated as incorrigible—as one abandoned to hardness of heart and reprobacy of mind. If he owes the mugwumps anything more he must discharge the obligation within sixty days and have done with it.

Stocks are dull, especially those of the fancy sort, and the New York brokers, as a class, are said to be making no money. There is no prospect that a war between England and Russia would stimulate Wall street business, for if England should extend her credit it would have the effect of attracting British capitalists from American investments to a new British loan. The shearing of Wall street lambs is never likely to be again such a profitable business as before Jay Gould went into the business on an unprecedented scale, at least, until a new flock is in. "Blind pools" will not soon be known again except as sad memories of the past.

Gov Whiteaker will soon take the office of collector of internal revenue. Cartwright was removed because a democrat wanted the place. Why not say so boldly?

Use REDDING'S RUSSIA SALVE, and you will never be without, as it is superior to all others.

ALMOST SAFE TO A CERTAINTY

The following calm statement of the growing crops of the Inland Empire will be read with interest. It is a letter from Mr H M Clise, general agent of the O R & N Co at Walla Walla, to Mr H S Rowe, superintendent of the rail:

WALLA WALLA, May 14.—Since the rain commenced there has been a fall of about three inches. We may consequently look for heavy crops unless something unusual should occur before harvest. It is a settled opinion that even the late sown spring grain will now mature. The critical period for this wheat grain is usually from May 15 to June 15, but the fall crop this year is fully two weeks in advance of previous years and all forward crops will be safe by June 1. About that date we can safely make estimates of the tonnage for this season.

The mails for the last two days have brought THE OREGONIAN more than 100 letters from its subscribers scattered throughout the interior, all in the same vein. Hardly a direct subscription comes in without a postscript expressing joy over the rain. Here is a sample from Lone Rock, Morrow county:

Please let the world know that we bunch grassers are happy. It has been raining, gently and steadily for thirty hours, which will add to our wealth thousands of dollars. Let Europe fight if they wish. We will supply the bread.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Will you please inform me what the law is in reference to shooting cattle on the range in W T. Take for example such a winter as last when it was impossible for a settler to procure food, and as a matter of necessity he should shoot an animal on the range, intending to pay for it on finding the owner and actually offering to pay. Can the owner then demand any price he pleases for damages and does an immediate settlement affect it in any way. By answering you will greatly oblige

A SUBSCRIBER.

[In these circumstances a jury would hardly fail to do the right thing. In such a case rather than submit to an extortionate demand we should let the owner of the animal sue and trust to a jury. It is hardly probable that any jury in a case like this would give the owner more than the actual value of the animal.]

Be wise with speed;

So said Young. Straws show which way the wind blows and there are a score of symptoms any one of which shows the existence of catarrh. Neglected it will rob the blood of its purity and the system of its strength. Get Dr Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It cures even long standing cases as thousands testify and should be used for colds in the head which often result in confirmed catarrh.

Dr Henley's Celery Beef and Iron cures dyspepsia and neuralgia.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

ARRIVAL OF CATERPILLARS.—Oregon has been as free from insect pests in the way of grasshoppers, caterpillars and "sich" as it has from tornadoes, thunder storms and other convulsions of nature. But with the advent of transcontinental railroads we may expect an increase of these things, which are so common in other places. A sample lot of caterpillars has been left at this office, which appear to belong to a species who are strangers here. They made their appearance in a small weeping willow tree at the north end a few days since, and in a short time had devoured every leaf upon the tree and then stood upon their heads and felt around with their hind legs for another tree. They are got up in the usual handsome style which characterizes all caterpillars, being covered with steel gray fur, with a row of orange spots along the back, and bristling with spikes at every pore. THE OREGONIAN is always pleased to receive specimens in natural history, but parties need not put themselves out to forward rattlesnakes, centipedes, tarantulas or fleas. Speaking of caterpillars—it is learned that the Albany express was stopped a few miles beyond Salem the other evening by an army of these creatures, which, in migrating from a swamp to a green hillside, crossed the track and covered it so densely for about a mile that the driving wheels of the locomotive spun around without effect, and it was only by liberal use of sand that the train was got across the route of this army. Some bugologist might furnish an interesting article in regard to this army of caterpillars, as such things are very uncommon here.

TWO MORE COUNTIES HEARD FROM.—The people of Washington county, justly proud of their region, and anxious to have the vacant lands settled up, have organized a county immigration bureau. The meeting was held Wednesday evening, and the following officers elected: President, Samuel Hughes, of Forest Grove; vice presidents, T. R. Cornelius, Robert Embrie, William Chalmers and Judge Humphreys. J. S. Wagener was elected secretary. The order has been given for a large stock of immigration literature, a part of which will be left with the state board for distribution. The county will appoint a local agent to whom the state board can direct new-comers. Citizens of Benton county held a meeting at the court house in Corvallis on the 4th, and duly organized a "Benton County Immigration Board," with the following officers: R. W. Wilson, president; T. J. Buford, Secretary, and Ben Job, treasurer. The board hold another meeting on Monday, at which a plan of operations will be adopted. It is proposed to appoint an agent, who shall reside at Corvallis, and to whom the state board can confidently send Benton county immigrants for information or location. The board will publish information for distribution at the state board rooms. So far, there are five county boards of immigration in this state.

LATEST FROM THE LEASE.—The Boston Advertiser of the 7th has the following: "The committees of the Union Pacific, Northern Pacific and Oregon Railway and Navigation companies, who have been conferring with regard to a joint lease of the Oregon Railway and Navigation by the other companies, promised each other that they would keep secret what transpired between them, and this promise was kept while they remained in Boston; but it transpires that some of them let out a part of the facts in New York, and it seems proper now that the exact and whole truth should be stated. A member of one of the committees says that the Union Pacific and Northern Pacific offered to take conjointly a lease of the Railway and Navigation lines, paying 5 per cent. therefor for three years, and 6 per cent. in perpetuity thereafter. The committee of the Railway and Navigation Company replied that they had no authority to accept the offer, but they would submit it to their directors. This ended the conference, and another will be held when occasion requires. An impression prevails, so far as the facts are known, that the joint offer will be accepted."

NOT ANXIOUS FOR OFFICE. — Ex-Governor Whiteaker, who was appointed collector of internal revenue here some time since, does not seem to "catch on" with the avidity which might be expected. Report says he has serious ideas of not accepting the office, in hope of getting something better, forgetting the old adage that a bird in the hand is worth a hundred thousand million in the tree. He is inquiring into the emoluments and responsibilities of the office and will probably soon make up his mind whether to take it or not. There are plenty who will take it if he don't, so no one need be worried about the office being left vacant. His friends think a man who was first constitutional governor of Oregon and who has served the party in the state legislature and in the national congress and who crossed the continent in four days, nineteen hours and fifty-three minutes to secure the organization of the lower house to his party, deserves to be rewarded with something better than a $3000-a-year office.

BOISTEROUS SPORT.—The crowd of hackmen and hotel runners who congregate at Fourth and Morrison streets every afternoon to wait for the west side train find the waiting tedious and so have discovered a scheme for amusing themselves. They place a well stuffed purse on each of the Fourth street crossings and wait to see who will pick them up. A great many people pass up and down Morrison street, and it does not take long to get a bite. As soon as any one stoops to pick up one of the purses the crowd sets up a regular Comanche war whoop, which so scares the victim of the joke that he drops the purse as if it were red hot, and leaves it for another victim. A school girl stooped for one of the purses yesterday and the yell which went up scared her out of a year's growth. The boys must not play such pranks on ladies. Any man who is green enough to stoop for a purse which a hundred or more fellows are watching, is lawful game; but if a lady stoops for it she should be allowed to carry it off in silence.

READING WITH HER FINGERS.—A little bit of a woman, about 25 years old, totally blind, arrived here from the east this week and is collecting no small amount of money every day by reading poetry from a book printed with raised letters. She takes station at some prominent corner, and her monotonous intonations which recall "second reader" days, long since forgotten, usually attract passersby enough to stop them. Then spectators soon become interested in watching her deft fingers glide over the peculiar shaped letters, the touch communicating with the brain almost as rapidly as does the sight, when brought to bear on printed words. Then the spectator wonders how nature and art have combined slightly to replace the greatest of the senses, rejoices that the five with which he was endowed remain intact, and before he leaves, feels the touch of pity and drops a coin into the tin cup which the unfortunate woman has at her side.

PECULIAR CASE OF STEALING.—Robert Law, a builder, was arrested and arraigned before Justice Simpson yesterday, on complaint of S. J. Mooney, for stealing a quantity of building material, his property. Defendant contracted to build three cottages for complainant near the cricket grounds in South Portland, and the same were near completion when a dispute arose about payment. The matter Mr. Mooney claims was settled, and he says he has Law's receipts. Law was allowed to room in one of the cottages, and on Thursday evening he took off and carried away some thirty doors and windows, a lot of shutters and three cistern pumps. Part of these he sold and the rest took to East Portland. He pleaded not guilty, and was in default of bonds committed to the county jail.

PILED UP THE COSTS.—A Chinaman yesterday complained at the police office that a countryman of his had struck him twice with a hatchet, and demanded that the fellow be arrested. He was accordingly hunted up and placed in jail. Then his friends flocked around the complainant and persuaded him to withdraw the charge. The court was willing that this should be done upon payment of costs. But the complainant, who must have been a Chinese lawyer, refused to pay anything, saying: "Me no sign paper, no complaint yet, so no costs." He was hoosted into the cell with the man who chopped him, and he costs kept on increasing, and by the time he had made up his mind to settle, amounted to $12 50. This funny business of dismissing complaints don't always work.

LAWYER ARRESTED.—A warrant for the arrest of F. V. Drake, lawyer, was sworn out yesterday by Dick Clinton on a charge of trespass. Some party formerly connected with the Tivoli wished to secure a balance of salary or a wardrobe, or something of that sort, and employed Drake as counsel. It was determined by his advice to attach something about the theater, and in doing this, it is charged, that Drake broke in a door, or doors, which Clinton claims he had no legal right to do. At all events there is something rotten in Denmark and Clinton is going to investigate it.

UNIQUE UMBRELLA STAND.—There is shown in the window of the Oregon Furniture Company a handsome umbrella stand, made from an ordinary drain tile, the artistic handiwork of Mrs. J. Kraemer, of this city. It is beautifully shaded, and decorated with the foliage and blossom of the water lily, in raised work. The stand shows into what lovely household ornaments the most unpromising articles can be fashioned with the application of taste and skill.

COULD NOT ENFORCE MECHANICS' LIEN.—Some time since Lent & Son began suit against Dr. J. A. Chapman and W. T. Hoffman to recover about $700, the value of lumber delivered to Hoffman, with which he transformed a piece of woods in East Portland into the Willamette park. Dr. Chapman owned the property and leased it to Hoffman. There was a written agreement under which the improvements made by Hoffman would become the property of Chapman under certain circumstances. Hoffman did not pay for the lumber, so Lent & Son filed a mechanics' lien on the property, making the owner as well as the lessee, a defendant. Chapman's attorneys demurred and this was sustained. Plaintiffs' attorneys were given until yesterday to file an amended complaint, which not being done, the suit as against Chapman was dismissed and the costs taxed to the plaintiffs.

SELECTED A LOCATION.—Mr. Henry Thies and Herman Kaltenbracker of Randolph county, Ill., who arrived at the state board of immigration rooms on the 7th of May, in search of a location for about twenty German families, left for the east at noon yesterday. After an examination of the surrounding country and the record of farms furnished by the board, they made a choice of locality in Lane county. They were so well pleased with the valley, that it was with some difficulty that a choice was made. They will return with their friends in the course of two or three months. Before leaving for the east they were supplied with a package of immigration literature and a full line of grain samples for distribution in Illinois.

HOW A LETTER GOT BACK.—A letter was received at the postoffice here last September addressed to some Scandinavian with an unpronounceable name. The box to which it was directed belonged to quite a different person, and as no one called for the letter it was duly advertised, and after a month forwarded to the dead letter office. From there it was started for the dead letter office of Sweden. It got as far as New York, where some clerk, having noticed another letter for the same person addressed to East Portland, tied the dead letter to the living one and they both arrived here yesterday, and will be duly received by the owner. This incident shows the care and attention given to letters by postoffice employes.

RATES ON WOOL.—The following rates on wool in sacks have been put into effect by the Oregon Short Line and Union Pacific railway from all local points on the O. R. & N. Co.'s lines. To Omaha, $2 75 per 100 pounds; New York, $3 52; Philadelphia, $3 50; Boston, $3 62, taking effect to-day, the 15th. The exceptionally quick time made by the Short Line and Union Pacific will enable wool shippers to get their product into the eastern market promptly and obtain quick returns. The rates quoted above are as low as those named by any other route.

I. O. G. T. ENTERTAINMENT.—There will be a dramatic, musical and literary entertainment given by Western Wave lodge, I. O. G. T., at Grand Army hall this (Saturday) evening. Among the interesting features will be the drama entitled, "Thirty Minutes for Refreshments," and several choice selections will be sung by the Misses Georgie Sears and Ivy Barker. Rev. J. Q. A. Henry will deliver the opening address. Doors open at 7:30. Exercises begin at 8. Admission, 25 cents.

STRIKERS WITHDRAW.—The trouble between the Oregon Pacific railroad and its employes is still unsettled. The company has been notified by forty-two of the strikers that they have drawn out of that organization and that they will no longer protect the company's property or be held responsible for damage done to it. They say they wish the company success in its enterprise and stand ready and willing to receipt for their pay at its earliest convenience.

TO-DAY'S EXCURSION.—The Telephone will leave Morrison street at 7:45 this morning and East Portland at 8, carrying the members of the East Portland Methodist Sunday school and friends. She goes to Multnomah falls and the Cascades. With fine, weather the trip will be a pleasant one.

CIRCUS COMING.—Dan Fitzgerald of R. W. Fryer's circus, who introduces entirely new features, is in the city. He states that the company will go on the road in June and will reach here about July 1. This will be the first party with canvas to arrive this year.

TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS REWARD.

I will pay twenty-five dollars reward for every round trip ticket from Portland to Chicago which is sold by Mr. Child on his proposed excursion—for $125 00 or less—which specifies that the holder is entitled to first-class accommodations either going or returning. This reward will be in addition to the purchase price of the ticket.

W. H. MARSHALL,
General Agent Chicago, Milwaukee
and St. Paul Railway,
34 Front St., Portland, Oregon.

EXCURSIONISTS.

The regular emigrant rate to Chicago is only $53 50. From Chicago to Portland it is $52 50, making the round trip $106. If you go on the Child excursion you pay $125 for the same tickets. You will consequently save $19 by getting your own ticket at Ash street dock and be furnished with the same accommodations.

MEMORIAL DAY ORDERS.

HEADQ'RS G. A. R., ADJT. GEN'S OFFICE,
TOLEDO, O., April 30, 1885.

General Orders No. 15.

MEMORIAL DAY.

In accordance with rules and regulations, May 30 will be observed as Memorial Day. As defined by resolution of the Eighteenth Annual Encampment, it will be kept sacred to the memory of our heroic dead. Let no idle merrymaking mar its consecrated hours.

Twenty years have passed since our last grand review. The death-roll of years has added tens of thousands to the half-million graves we left behind. The daily tolling bell, the freshly knotted crape, the muffled drum, the slow and solemn procession, tell how fast our comrades join the silent ranks above.

One by one a gallant leader languishes upon his couch of pain, and over myriads of homes the death angel hovers darkly. Hallowed be the day that brings such solemn thoughts as these.

Our comrades sleep well. No fear can disturb their profound slumber, no perfume of flowers make their rest more sweet; but whenever Memorial Day is observed, there rises a higher ideal of American valor, a holier care for the men who saved the Union.

Let posts of the Grand Army everywhere assemble. Enlist all loyal hearts in an observance of the day. Let the women and children be invited. Let all who reverence the flag unite in the ministration of loyalty and affection. The custom of inviting the clergy to hold memorial services on the Sunday preceding Memorial Day is again commended, and comrades should feel it a privilege and duty to attend.

Where there are no graves to gather around, as on the far frontier, memorial services may still be held. Where there are no flowers to wreathe, there still remains that perfect flower of freedom—the red, white and blue. Above each patriot's grave may its benediction fall.

The flowers of love are immortal. Let ours to cherish them in our hearts and let their fragrance fill our lives. By command of

JOHN S. KOUNTZ, Commander-in-Chief.
W. W. ALESON, Adjutant General.

HDQRS. DEP. OF OREGON, G. A. R.,
PORTLAND, May 1, 1885.

General Orders No. 1.

I.—In compliance with the rules and regulations of the Grand Army of the Republic, Saturday, May 30, 1885, will be observed as Memorial Day.

II. It is recommended that posts arrange for appropriate services in places of worship on the Sunday preceding Memorial Day, and that the comrades attend such services in a body, and in full uniform.

III.—Wherever possible, public exercises should be held, commemorative of our noble dead who freely gave their lives for the land they loved. To these exercises invite our loyal auxiliaries of the Women's Relief corps, and take especial care to secure the presence of our young people. Memorial Day is the particular occasion upon which lessons of loyalty to the Union can be firmly impressed upon the minds of the youth of our land, and it is our duty to see that this opportunity is not lost. It is urgently requested that every comrade will make it his duty to appear on parade with his post in full uniform on Memorial day.

IV.—Post chaplains will forward full reports of the exercises attending the observance of Memorial Day to Comrade Frank L. Story, department chaplain, Portland, Oregon. By command of

F. H. LAMB, Department Commander,
Z. W. CHRISTOPHER, Asst. Adjt. General.

The Doctor's Endorsement.

Dr. W. D. Wright, Cincinnati, O., sends the subjoined professional endorsement. "I have prescribed DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS in a great number of cases and always with success. One case in particular was given up by several physicians who had been called in for consultation with myself. The patient had all the symptoms of confirmed consumption—cold night sweats, hectic fever, harrassing coughs, etc. He commenced immediately to get better and was soon restored to his usual health. I found DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS the most valuable expectorant for breaking up distressing coughs and colds."

BRIEF MENTION.

Minstrel matinee to-day. Admission 25 and 50 cents. In the evening gallery 50 cents.

A 6:30 this evening the Vancouverites can leave for Portland to attend the theaters, returning at the close of performance.

The case of P. Selling against Olds & Tyson to recover $803 15 was dismissed yesterday in the state circuit court by mutual agreement.

Silas Haight, a pioneer of '45, died at his home near Albany on the 12th inst. at an advanced age. He moved to Linn county in 1847, where he resided ever since.

A foot race between Frank Lewis and C. F. Gibson, to be run at Portland, is talked of. These sprinters ran in San Francisco about two months ago, Gibson winning.

The eastern Oregon delegates to the territorial Grand Lodge I. O. O. F. at Olympia reached here last evening on their way home. They were registered at the St. Charles.

Ladd & Tilton began suit yesterday in the state circuit court against Tim and Elizabeth Stapleton to recover $700, attorney's fees and interest on a note given March 7, 1884.

The Corvallis Water Company are extending their ditches throughout various parts of the city preparatory to laying their four and six inch mains and other water pipes in the city.

Mrs. Hill's new house on Tenth and Morrison is under roof and otherwise well advanced. It will contain thirty-five rooms and it is expected will be ready for occupation in three months.

The young men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. this evening will be led by Mr. Howard Furgeson; subject, "Are You Ready?" The meeting will commence at 8. All young men will be welcomed at the rooms.

The bail of Chung Wong, held in $1000 on a charge of arson, was declared forfeited in department 2 of the state circuit court. Wong is accused of having set fire to the house of Ah Kim, on Second street.

A suit of J. E. Lombard and F. S. Bosworth against Jos. Buchtel and wife, to recover $275, was dismissed in the state circuit court, without prejudice, the complaint being faulty. Plaintiffs were taxed with the costs.

A late number of the Daily Times of Dubuque, Iowa, gives an account of a social gathering at the residence of H. R. Baker in that city, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James Steel of this city, who twenty-five years ago were residents of Dubuque.

W. O. Allen, the house mover, was up to Rock Island yesterday to look at the sunken steamer City of Salem with a view of bidding for the job of raising her. He thinks the job a rather risky one, but one that can be successfully accomplished if undertaken at once.

Some excitement was created in Tuft's cooper shop, corner First and C streets, when a fire was started in the large fireplace yesterday morning. One of the workmen picked up among the shavings which were used to start the fire a shotgun cartridge. This exploded with a loud report, scattering fire all over the shop, but injuring no one.

The Columbia is rising, and the back water has brought the Willamette up to such a stage that it has been deemed advisable to suspend further operations with the city dredger. This efficient but much abused craft will therefore be tied up to the city levee until the water has reached a stage which will enable her to be operated with advantage.

A long standing case in the state circuit court came to an end yesterday by being thrown out of court. It was a suit brought about three years ago by Anthony Moore against A. J. Watson, proprietor of the Columbia iron works, to recover $2500. Moore claimed that Watson contracted to deliver certain sawmill machinery at a certain time, and to pay $10 a day for delay beyond the specified date. Moore waited 250 days and brought suit for the sum mentioned. Watson denied the allegation that he ever entered into a contract and the suit was dismissed at plaintiff's cost.

THE STAGE.

FIREMEN'S BENEFIT.—It is needless to remark that the New Market was crowded to the doors last night on the occasion of the Firemen's benefit tendered by Baird's Minstrels and Manager Howe. Inspired by the crowd, the minstrels were at their best, and of course gave a good show. To correct a misapprehension, it ought to be stated that admission to the gallery is fifty cents as usual; and the usual matinee prices prevail for this afternoon's performance.

THE CASINO.—Though the elements were anything but favorable, "Martha" drew the largest house of the week last night. A more delightful performance of this favorite opera could not be asked. It will be given only two nights longer.

WARDE.—Barring accident, Frederick Warde and his company will arrive this evening from San Francisco. This will give them ample time to get off of their sea legs, and they ought to be in line trim for Monday night.

LADIES' ORCHESTRA CONCERT.—To-morrow night the Berlin Lady orchestra, under the leadership of Miss Kate Berthner, will give a concert at Turn Halle. Following the concert a social dance.

CHOICE CONFECTIONS.

While the three-storied building on Fifth and E streets is adapted in every particular to the manufacturing of candies, it is quite too remote for the transaction of business with city and country customers. Having observed this, the proprietors, Allsky, Baum & Co., sought more central quarters for the handling of goods and where their customers would easily find them. The store Front and Stark, diagonally across the street from the OREGONIAN office, has been placed in thorough repair, and the stock of finished candies, nuts and other goods carried by the firm transferred to the shelves and places arranged for their reception. In years gone by the bulk of fine candies was imported; but through the introduction of skilled workmen and machinery, Allsky, Baum & Co. are prepared to manufacture the very cream of confectionery. Their facilities are such as to enable them to mark prices to the trade down to the lowest figure. They employ about fifty hands, including girls, no Chinamen being utilized about the premises. There is no longer need of sending abroad for goods handled by Allsky, Baum & Co., who now carry all goods desired by the trade. They also carry a large stock of bakers' and confectioners' supplies.

COMMERCIAL.

FRIDAY, May 15.

Overland receipts include 1 cs candy, 50 cs lard, 1 kgs syrup, 11 bxs soap, 1 cs maple sugar, 1 cs cigarettes, 20 bkgs tobacco, 250 kgs nails, 20 bls cotton bagging, 10 bls flax twine.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past 24 hours: 10 bbls flour, 800 ctls oats, 4173 lbs wool, 2235 lbs hides, 128 cs eggs, 21 pkgs fruit, 4 pkgs butter. Also, 254 ctls wheat, 437 bbls flour, 962 ctls oats, 526 ctls barley, 22958 lbs wool, 1100 lbs hides from the eastern section.

FREIGHTS—No new transactions to report. The little inquiry fails to partake of the nature of a demand. Owners remain quite firm and are credited with refusing 40s direct from Astoria, although it is known that one charter at this is held back from the fact that charterers want long lay days. The Carnarvon Castle comes seeking.

WHEAT—Small business done. A quieter turn abroad causes shippers to hang back and they are less inclined to pay full prices. Holders remain firm. Advices present little of new interest. We quote the same as before.

OATS—Choice black sold at 35c and the market appears steadier. Offerings here are not heavy while holders want 36@37½c for best grades. Receipts rule free, partly for shipment account.

WOOL—The market shows no change 12@16½c being quoted for Eastern Oregon. Advices are without new interest.

CHICKENS—Fair to choice old quoted $3@3 50; young $2 50@3. Market appears to be steady.

EGGS—Fresh selling freely at 12½c, although it is said 10c was accepted this morning. There is no reason for changing the quotation of 12@12½.

Strawberries sold at 5@6½c this morning, the extreme being paid for shipment. Cold and unfavorable ripening weather gives values a better tone.

ASSOCIATED PRESS MARKETS.

CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET.

CHICAGO, May 15.—Wheat ruled weak and strong at intervals throughout the session to-day, but closed in the afternoon at the lowest prices current during the week. The weather was fine, but the bulk of the reports from the growing districts were of a discouraging tenor, and indicative of serious damage to the winter wheat. During the middle of the session prices advanced on reports of renewed complications between Russia and England, but as consols were quoted steady little faith was placed in the reports, and the market fell back and closed at the lowest point, but with a steady feeling. The closing was 3¾ under the latest figures yesterday. Wheat ranged: May 88½@89¾, closed 88¾; June 89⅝@90⅝, closed 89¼; July 91½@92⅝, closed 91⅜; No. 2 spring, 82¾; No. 3 spring, 79@80; No. 2 red, 98; No. 3 red, 88½@89.

For corn the market ruled weak, rallying somewhat with wheat, but under a strong selling pressure it declined and closed at ⅜@½ under yesterday: Cash 46¾; May 46⅞@47⅜, closed 46⅝@46¾; June 46½@46¾, closed 46¾; July 46⅞@47¾, closed 46⅞@47.

A RETORT.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Seeing your notice of the 13th regarding charges made against one Mrs. Wright, by his honor defunct J. P. Alexander Keegan, charging her with "swilling" his premises—which the court couldn't see—I have this to say: that had the charge been true, it would not have equaled the swill he sells in his saloon, where the real swilling is done.

THE EAST SIDE.

H. C. Wood was arrested and arraigned before Justice Simpson yesterday for the larceny of a wagon, the property of Robert Gilbert, the complainant. The complainant is a farmer, and about May, 1883, his son brought to town a load of potatoes, under the weight of which the wagon, which was a very old one, broke down in front of defendant's place of business, on L street. The load was transferred to a wagon borrowed from defendant and disposed of, and the disabled one left upon the street. The street commissioner, being unable to find the owner of the wagon, ordered defendant to remove the same, in pursuance of his duty to keep the streets clear of obstructions, and the latter did so, preserving the sound portions thereof. About two months later the son of complainant applied to defendant for the remains of the wagon, but the latter refused to deliver them without compensation for storage, which the farmer declined to pay, deeming the charges in excess of the value of the goods, and agreed to leave defendant in possession and "call it square." Some time after defendant closed out his business and sold his property in question to Joseph Streehe, the blacksmith, who used the same in rebuilding the wagon. Meantime the complainant had officers looking for the missing wagon, and Constable Hildine's discovery of it led to the arrest. Defendant pleaded not guilty, and the trial was set for next Monday at 2 P. M. The action of complainant in preferring a criminal charge appears to have been premature, the case only seeming to justify a civil action for replevin.

FIRE MATTERS.

At an adjourned meeting of the Board of Fire Delegates last evening, Frank Payne was recommended to engineer of Pioneer Engine company, and the secretary instructed to so notify the common council. Payne was the only nominee, and received four votes, three members not voting and Meade being absent.

At the regular meeting of Pioneer Engine company last evening, the secretary was instructed to notify members in arrears that, if not square on the books in thirty days, they would be expelled; and J. H. Hall was appointed second assistant during the absence of C. P. Blakely.

BOLD BURGLARIES.

Night before last the residence of R. M. Wade, corner of Fifth street and Holladay avenue, was entered and the lower story ransacked, but nothing so far has turned up missing. Entrance was effected through a window, which was first broken or cut and the catch broken off. All the operations were prosecuted without arousing the inmates, who were asleep upstairs.

On the same night the residence of Mr. Johnson, residing on Fifth street, near the avenue, was also entered and ransacked, and the only article missing is a ten-cent piece from the pants of Wm. Johnson. As in the former case, the inmates were sound sleepers and were not alarmed by the operations.

HAND HURT.

Mr. Schmitt, residing on J street between Ninth and Tenth, while trimming his trees yesterday, was struck on the hand by a falling limb, dislocating his thumb and spraining his wrist badly, causing it to swell considerably.

SALEM NOTES.

SALEM, May 15.

The Marion county jail has but a single inmate at the present time.

Mrs. E. M. Planondon and family have gone to Hillsboro on a brief visit.

Rev. J. Taylor Chambers of this city has gone to Oregon City on a flying business trip.

Hon. John Q. Adams returned yesterday from an extended visit to Eastern Oregon.

The state library to-day received a new installment of standard works, costing some $1500.

Hon. A. Bush, of this city, lost a valuable Guernsey cow, whose death was $200 out of his pocket.

The H. A. C. minstrels of this city will accompany the firemen to Astoria in June and give an entertainment in that city.

Tiger Engine company No. 2, of this city, has elected Thos. Holman and Clay Starr to represent them at the coming meeting of the Firemen's Association of Oregon.

Rota Kelly, an 8-year-old daughter of a family of Indians belonging to the Grand Ronde reservation who are camping near the depot in this city, fell into the mill race last evening and was drowned.

The advanced pupils of the U. S. Indian Training school came up this morning accompanied by their band and will give a free entertainment this evening at the M. E. church, which will, of course, be largely attended.

The ladies of the M. E. church will, the weather permitting, give a lawn party on Wednesday evening next, at the residence of Mr. A. A. McCully on Piety Hill. The H. A. C. band will furnish the music for the occasion.

The Salem board of trade met last evening and re-elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Jno. H. Albert, president; Chas. B. Moores, vice-president; Frank E. Hodgkin, secretary, and W. N. Ladue, treasurer. Initiatory steps were taken toward extending the Iowa press association an invitation to visit Salem and the officers of the board were authorized to make all necessary arrangements for that purpose.

AMATEUR OPERA AT OLYMPIA.

OLYMPIA, May 13.

The cheerful operetta, "Trial by Jury," was admirably rendered by the musical amateurs of this city last evening to an overflowing house. The following was the cast of characters:

Plaintiff	Mrs. S. M. Percival
Defendant	Mr. R. G. O'Brien
Judge	Mr. L. P. Ludlington
Associate Judge	Dr. Starkwather
Prosecuting Counsel	Mr. M. Harris
Usher	Mr. G. M. Moore
Foreman of Jury	Mr. B. Frost

Besides, the bridesmaids, jury and audience, etc., making a total of about thirty persons, each of whom acted his or her part to perfection.

The music was under the direction of Mr. W. H. Roberts, and it was generally remarked that everything from the opening chorus to the finale ran like clock work. Owing probably to the care given to the rehearsals by Mr. O'Brien, the conductor, and Mrs. S. M. P. Jones, the lady with whom the idea of giving this opera first originated.

The proceeds of the first evening's entertainment will probably be given to the Capital Guards, and as the entertainment will be repeated this evening, for the benefit of those who were unable to obtain seats last night, it is likely that the proceeds will be handed over to the Musical Union, who deserve every credit for the treat afforded our citizens.

THE NEW RAILROAD LAW.

McMINNVILLE, May 15.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

1. When does the law passed at the last Oregon legislature, limiting passenger rates to four cents a mile come into effect?

2. Does the law compel passengers to purchase tickets before entering the cars?

3. May the railroad company impose a fine of 25 cents above lawful rates when a passenger fails to purchase a ticket?

INTERESTED ONE.

[1 May 22, 1885. 2. No. 3. No. And it may be news to add that a railroad company does not have to make change.]

POLITICAL EXPRESSION.

New York Sun: If the mugwump reformers would only start a party of their own they might help some of the brethren who are now struggling in the slough of non-partisanship.

St. Louis Republican: A shower of fishes has fallen in Indiana. If that grand old democrat, Thomas A. Hendricks, had been consulted, there would have been loaves with them.

Astorian: Those two cents alleged to have been lost under a republican administration have been found on the floor of the treasury room, by one of the counters who had helped turn the rascals out.

Indianapolis Times: The ranks appear to have closed up. The municipal elections in the state indicate the election of the next republican state ticket and possibly of the republican United States senator, despite of the gerrymander.

Philadelphia Press: As the Tennessee prohibitionists are demanding that the democracy in that state shall adopt their principles or meet their opposition, the democrats do not view the settlement of the liquor question with as much complacency as they have in republican states.

Memphis Avalanche: The Eustis rash talk was but a surface indication of a growing pressure. The insistance has never been greater than it is now. While insincere organs are trying to restrain rash place hunters by begging for a little more time for the administration, a tremendous pressure is brought to bear for haste in removals and appointments.

PRESS PITH.

A Grateful Citizen. O. B. Griggs, of Bridgeport, desires to tender his thanks to the choir at Plainfield, who so kindly and satisfactorily sang at the funeral of his mother-in-law.—Plainfield Daily Progress.

"I'd have you to know," said Mrs. F., with some asperity, "that my brother has always moved in the best society." "Yes," replied Fogg, "or he was never allowed to remain in it; which, of course, is the same thing, my dear."—Boston Transcript.

At Adrian, Michigan, a lady saw an engine-house with a steeple, and innocently asked a gentleman attendant, "What church is that?" The gentleman, after reading the sign, "Deluge No. 3," replied, "I guess it must be the Third Baptist."—Chicago Times.

"What a stupid play this is, Henry; I have half a mind to go home." "Why, Clara, this is the fourth time you have seen it, and you liked it so well before that you insisted on coming again." "Yes, I know; but I've got my new spring bonnet on, and they're too stingy to turn on their old gas between the acts."—Chicago Herald.

AYER'S Hair Vigor [illegible] Hair Vigor [illegible] its freshness and color to faded hair. It attains these results by the stimulation of the hair roots and color glands. It rejuvenates the HAIR and cleanses the scalp. It restores to the hair, that, either by reason of age or diseases of the scalp, has become dry, harsh and brittle, a pliancy and glossy silken softness of extreme beauty. There is no dye in Ayer's Hair VIGOR and the good it does is by the healthy stimulus it imparts to the follicles, and the cleanliness and healthfulness of the condition in which it maintains the scalp.

AYER'S Hair Vigor renews the hair. Hair Vigor is the best cure known for Brashy Hair, Scald Head, Itching Humors, Tetter Sores, Torpid Follicles, and all other diseases of the scalp that cause the falling of the HAIR and its fading. Nothing cleanses the HAIR of the nuisance of dandruff so perfectly, and so effectually prevents its return, as AYER'S HAIR VIGOR. In addition to the curative and restorative virtues peculiar to Ayer's Hair VIGOR it is a toilet luxury. The Hair Vigor is by far the cleanliest hair-dressing made. It causes the hair to grow thick and long, and keeps it always soft and glossy.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Contains no deleterious ingredients. Its use prevents all scalp disease, secures against the hair growing thin or gray, and surely cures all baldness that is not organic.
